

Ginny Wilson...
“A Blue Ridge Photography Retrospective”
September 14 – November 4, 2017

The Heritage Art Gallery at the Tulare Historical Museum is pleased to bring you Ginny Wilson...“A Blue Ridge Photography Retrospective” from Lindsay/Visalia artist Ginny Wilson. Coming off the heels of her farewell photography show (recently held in Lindsay, CA), Ginny Wilson returns one final time with this very special career retrospective.

Born and raised in Michigan, Virginia “Ginny” Wilson was drawn to the beauty of nature at a young age, and she has been immersed in it ever since. As Ginny moved to California, her photography subject interests continued to evolve while she took art and photography classes at Porterville College. Wilson honed her talents so much that in time she would teach photography classes at the college herself.

Ginny developed (pun intended!) her passion into a business with her Blue Ridge Photography, which has allowed her to showcase her work throughout the San Joaquin Valley. After many years behind the lens, Ginny has decided to retire in order to spend more time with her husband Jim and their children and grandchildren.

A reception for the artist will be Thursday, September 14, 2017, from 5:00–7:00pm. The reception is open to the public and is free of charge.

Hours of operation are 10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. Thursday – Saturday.
Admission to the Heritage Art Gallery exhibitions is free.
